

Agreement on online archiving of doctoral thesis between the Oslo School of Architecture and Design (AHO)

and the Author

Objective

The objective of the Agreement is to make the Author's doctoral thesis available through AHO's open access repository ADORA (<http://brage.bibsys.no/aho/?locale=en>).

Agreement content

The agreement gives AHO a royalty-free and non-exclusive right to make the Author's doctoral thesis electronically available on the Internet through ADORA.

The agreement also gives ADORA's users the right to royalty-free and for non-commercial purposes to search, read, save, copy or link to the thesis.

The parties' obligations

The Author shall submit both a digital and a hard copy of the thesis.

AHO will make the thesis (or part of the thesis) available in the form in which it was submitted to AHO (with text, tables, graphics, images and more) but with the technical adjustments necessary for publishing on the Internet. The Author has the right to confirm the electronic version before it is made available in ADORA.

The Author warrants that he / she is the author of the dissertation and has complete control over this in its entirety, including articles, and that the use of copyright material has been granted from third parties where necessary.

The Author shall in the event of entering into agreements with a third party (typically journals and publishers) on the transfer of the right to publish the dissertation or articles included in this, always make sure to preserve and protect AHO's rights under this Agreement.

Copyright

Beyond the rights given AHO in the Agreement all copyright belongs to the Author, when not otherwise specified between the parties.

Termination of the Agreement

Either parties may terminate the Agreement by giving written notice. The party does not need to give a reason for termination.

In the event of termination AHO will, as soon as practicably possible and no later than within thirty (30) business days after receiving the written notice, remove the thesis from ADORA.
